Picture This! Send us your photos of Snoqualmie – what do you like? What should we keep? What should we change? Email Associate Planner Nicole Sanders your photos, comments and ideas on how you picture Snoqualmie, now and in the future. Nsanders@ci.snoqualmie.wa.us . PLEASE label the photo as to whether it is a feature you like or dislike, etc.

Check Online. We will be posting other ways to participate, as well as revised timeline of planning activities, online at http://www.ci.snoqualmie.wa.us/Departments/PlanningDepartment/ComprehensivePlan.aspx . Stay tuned for a survey opportunity, downloads of additional information, and another expected Public Session on planning in the Fall. The updated page should be ready June 28th, 2010.

Go to the City website and select: Departments>Planning>Comprehensive Plan for more information on June 28th, 2010

Snoqualmie 2030: The Next Generation

Fall (October) of 2010 – Snoqualmie Public Forum, with additional planning information provided to the public with space for public input. It is likely there will be more than one public meeting around this time.

June of 2011 – Planning Commission Review begins. Planning Commission will commence with a series of meetings reviewing Staff recommendations on new Comprehensive Plan policies, goals and objectives.

August of 2011 – City Council Review begins. City Council will be fully briefed on the new planning recommendations and make final decisions on which policies to adopt. By September 2011, the Comprehensive Plan is expected to be sent to the State Department of Commerce for their 60-day review.

Snoqualmie 2030: The Next Generation

Fall (October) of 2010 – Snoqualmie Public Forum, with additional planning information provided to the public with space for public input. It is likely there will be more than one public meeting around this time.

June of 2011 – Planning Commission Review begins. Planning Commission will commence with a series of meetings reviewing Staff recommendations on new Comprehensive Plan policies, goals and objectives.

August of 2011 – City Council Review begins. City Council will be fully briefed on the new planning recommendations and make final decisions on which policies to adopt. By September 2011, the Comprehensive Plan is expected to be sent to the State Department of Commerce for their 60-day review.