City Council Appoints James Mayhew as New Council Member

Snoqualmie, WA – The Snoqualmie City Council voted unanimously to appoint James Mayhew for Council Position 4 at the City Council meeting on October 9. City Clerk Jodi Warren administered the oath of office, after which he took his seat immediately.

Council Member Mayhew has lived in Snoqualmie since 2009. He attended the University of Washington, earning a B.A in Business Administration; has a background in finance and accounting with large multi-national accounting firms; and, locally, is a former treasurer of the Wildcat Junior Football and Cheerleading Association.

On his application for the city council, he stated his top three priorities as fiscal sustainability; controlled growth that sustains the type of community [Snoqualmie's] citizens desire; and communication with citizens about the vision, implications, and basis for decisions that impact them and the city.

The term of this position will expire after the results of the November 2019 general election are certified.
