Meet Your Local Police and State Patrol Over Coffee Coffee with a Cop Takes Place November 17, 8-10 am, Safeway Starbucks on Snoqualmie Ridge

Snoqualmie, WA – Discuss concerns or share a friendly conversation at Coffee with a Cop, held Friday, November 17, 8-10 a.m. at the Starbucks located in Safeway, 34828 SE Douglas Street in Snoqualmie. Members of the Snoqualmie Police Department, which serves Snoqualmie and North Bend, along with local Troopers of the Washington State Patrol will be on hand to meet with residents.

“This is what having a cup of coffee is all about – it’s the conversation and fellowship with others that make the coffee more enjoyable,” said Snoqualmie Police Chief Perry Phipps.

Coffee with a Cop, which started as a nationwide initiative in 2011, opens the door for interactions between law enforcement officers and community members outside of crisis situations that typically bring them together. The program has expanded to Canada, Europe, Australia, and Africa.
